

Letter Of Recommendation

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Mr. Abhinav Sharma who is acquainted with me since (first/second/third/final) year of his graduation and was under my tutelage for the subjects of Concrete Technology, Advance Concrete Structures, and Construction Management. Basis my observation of him, I would say he was a focused student with sound academic aptitude and leadership potential.

Academically he was brilliant and secured high grades, especially in the subjects that I have taught him. The fact that he was always among the top (mention, number e.g. 5 or 10) students of the class further indicate the consistency he maintained in his academic performance. Despite his strong technical skills, he was inquisitive about gaining knowledge and did not mind exploring beyond the academic curriculum to know about the latest technical advancements. Consequently, he managed to amass significant knowledge of relevant concepts and developed diverse technical skills. In addition to his efforts towards attaining technical proficiency, he was equally determined to foster soft skills and regularly endorsed discussions with me around this topic. Over the year, he had amazed me with his remarkable improvements and it was pleasing to witness him transforming into a well-rounded personality.

He has completed multiple projects and an internship under my guidance and I have also monitored his performance in an event titled, "Concrete Mix Design". In all the projects, he was quick in learning new concepts and implemented the learning in live scenarios with ease. Furthermore, his strong knowledge of fundamentals coupled with his logical abilities assisted him in analyzing problems accurately and was crucial in achieving desired outputs.

Abhinav was the designated leader of the aforementioned event and as the event head; he was well organized and inspired others with his responsible conduct. In his interactions, he at all times exhibited professionalism and emphasized communicating openly and contributing to the team cause. While executing his tasks, he was methodical in his approach, worked with a sense of accountability, and was extremely particular about his commitments. Although it was his organizational skills that were widely appreciated by everyone including me, I think his positive attitude towards learning and spontaneity also largely defined his remarkable stint as the leader.

In my opinion, he has the requisite skills needed for this course and I am confident that he would adhere to the principles and disciplines of your University, and would prove to be an asset. I hence, recommend his application wholeheartedly.
