

Letter Of Recommendation

It is with immense happiness that I am recommending Mr. Yash Rajput, who is seeking admission to the Master's program at your institution. He is acquainted with me since (first/second/third/fourth) year of his engineering program and in our academic interactions over all these years; came across as a diligent student.

He has a keen interest in academics and possesses an overall positive attitude towards learning, especially novel technological advancements and never dithers from exploring beyond academic curriculum to know how the real world is evolving in light of these new technologies. His hard-work and work commitment is admirable too as he is ready to work sincerely until he completes his task and executes his assigned duties carefully. He remains composed when faced with a pressing situation and his initial response to any problem in a brain storming sessions is to analyze it thoroughly and while working on a problem he never gets discouraged by hurdles, rather persistently continue with his efforts despite initial failures. Moreover, with his knack for considering opinions even if they are in complete contrast with his viewpoints and subsequent acceptance of feedback in positive light, he never seem vacillating about asking for advice and always takes his decisions without getting biased.

I have taught him the subjects of Information Security, Artificial Intelligence, Data Structure and Analysis and Design of Algorithms and under my guidance he has also participated in a hackathon. During this event, he was supportive of his colleagues, interacted respectfully with them in group tasks and due to his polite conduct was put in high regards by everyone in the team. Putting his analytical skills to use, he came up with relevant suggestions and through his innovative yet precise solutions was pivotal in leading the team to the final round of the event. An otherwise brilliant performer in academics, he is a firm believer in acquiring holistic growth and makes scrupulous efforts to do well in extra-curricular activities as well. He is a travel enthusiast, has special interest in photography and regularly involved in various sporting activities (football and swimming) arranged at intra and inter-college level.

I believe the course will broaden the horizons of his knowledge, introduce him to global business environment as far as the technical arena is concern and via intensive training prepare him for next level of career progression. I therefore recommend him to the institution.
