

Letter Of Recommendation

I am writing to recommend Mr. Rohit Sharma, who has recently applied for (program name) at your esteemed university. I have known him for (mention number of years) years and in our academic interactions, he came across as a student with great potential and seems well prepared for the rigors of the classroom. With his dedication and desire to learn, I can confidently assert that he will thrive in a challenging academic environment such as yours and excel in all the given tasks.

Given his knack for taking feedback constructively, he never hesitates in clarifying his doubts and often approaches me for career guidance. Following my advice, post completion of his engineering program, he started teaching students the subjects of Engineering Mathematics, Object-Oriented Programming at a coaching institute and also guided them in their project work. Gaining recognition sooner as the resourceful person on design aspects and introducing automation in practical assignments, he was held in high regard by the students and was regularly featured in the list of top-performing faculties.

Keeping me updated on his progress constantly, he shared with me his plan of going ahead with a socially relevant cause of educating farmers around technological advents and their application so that they can be benefited in the long run. Spending two years spreading awareness on automation of tools, detection of rodents, and cost-effective modes of farm surveillance, he did a spending job and was successful in giving back to society.

After witnessing his passion and tremendous determination, I believe this course is the right career next step for him and therefore, strongly endorse his application.

Dr. Kabir Malhotra
Professor, Dean – Evaluation
ABC University