

Letter Of Recommendation

It is with great pleasure that I am writing this letter of recommendation for Mr. Reyan Deshmukh, whom I have known since (mention year). In our association of two years, I have observed him to be an assiduous person who sincerely executes allocated tasks and has been always punctual with their submissions.

He is honest in his efforts, inspires with his dedication and is always eager to work devotedly without getting worried about spending extra time on his assignments. Not only is he willing to work harder and longer than everyone else in the team but enthusiastically works towards resolving the issues faced. Complementing his knack for problem solving perfectly is the amazing grasping abilities he possesses which further assist him in learning novel concepts to subsequently devise pragmatic solutions. Given the fact that he initially joined the organization as an intern and basis the merit of performance was promoted to his current position, the recognition he has achieved so far is astounding and aptly seems in line with his growing reputation of a reliable resource.

In his current role within the Platform UX team, he is involved in developing a common web framework on angular, which can be used by all the products across the company to build their cloud applications. Performing energetically, he is able to get hands on experience on every aspect of the vast codebase, gained expert level knowledge on product and has been pivotal in developing best in class features. While he has shown intent to learn and did not dither from raising queries, he is equal to the task of maintaining highest level of overall quality and has fixed over 200 bugs in relatively short period of time. Furthermore, despite being part of challenging projects, he remains unfazed by the quantum of complexity in the task and taking on constraints head on, works relentlessly towards overcoming the hurdles blocking the progress. Needless to say, owing to his contributions, he is widely appreciated by different stakeholders including the top management and was the youngest person to receive the ABC Star award in the year 2021.

Additionally, he is a regular participant in various technical events (bug-bash sessions, ABC Hackathon) conducted at office, was among the eight finalist of in-house hackathon and organized the intra-team online meetings too when the team was operating from home.

After witnessing his passion and tremendous determination, I believe this course is the right next step for him in terms of career advancement. I therefore, strongly endorse his application.

Advait Varma
Product Development Manager
ABC Company