

Statement of Purpose

To
The Visa Officer
High Commission of Australia
Sub: Application requesting visa extension
Dear Sir/Madam,

I hereby introduce myself as Vivek Singh. I am a citizen of India and I belong to a well-settled family in India. My parents have decent funds as well as movable and immovable assets to support my studies in Australia. Hence, I have received the upright encouragement to pursue further studies in Australia. Also, they were at complete ease when I told them that I had recognized my true self while pursuing the hotel management course and I wanted to change it to Bachelor of Community Services. Their non-judgmental support and encouragement have bolstered my confidence to chase my study objectives. Hence, I have changed my course from Hotel Management at the Perth campus to Bachelor's in Community Services at Curtin College in Sydney. I am also grateful that the college has provided me with admission. As my course is due to begin in <add intake>, I request a visa extension from you.

Through this letter, I want to assure you that I am a genuine temporary entrant who found community services to be his ultimate goal. However, the saddening is that I realized it a bit later but I am glad that I did before finally cuffing my hands to a profession that doesn't suit my personality. Hence, soon after realizing the same, I did not waste my time and secured admission to Curtin College. Here, I will be studying about offering skilled, ethical, and culturally applicable community services. I will prepare myself to provide services in the areas of palliative care, hospice, juvenile justice, child care, etc. It will certainly prepare me to add value to my community back home. As we know India is a developing nation. It is going through a vast variety of changes which brings good and bad simultaneously. In such a situation, somebody like me needs to offer relevant community services so the weaker section of our society doesn't get neglected while their talents could be utilized for creating independence, freedom, and self-worth.

There is a lot of scope for this particular program in India. We have many care centers, NGOs, and bigger organizations like A Rocha India, AID India, Apostolic Christian Assembly, etc., with whom I can associate myself after the completion of my study program. By doing so, I will be able to step my career on the right foot. Anticipating a huge revolution in the existing community services in my country, I am sure to add meaning to my career as a community service professional. I will utilize my skills to collaborate with eminent personalities in India to begin a welfare startup as my long-term goal. I aim to work for women, children, and the elderly as these are the most under-pressure sections in our society. With my international education and training, I will make sure I bring newness to the platter and serve my people right. It is the immense potential of this course that has enticed me to change from fancy guest service to community service. I did have the service content in me but I misinterpreted it with serving the hospitality community while later I realized I was meant to provide for the Indian community at large. This is when I realized a course in community services is the right fit for me.

I took a reasonable time to figure it out and have the courage to discuss this with my parents who eventually supported me and allowed me to change my course. Hence, I request a visa extension till <add date>. I shall be very grateful to you.

Also, I assure you that I will continue to display amicable behavior as I have been doing since I entered Australia. I shall pose no harm either to society or its people and I am determined to return to my home country after the completion of my study program. I have a very rewarding career waiting ahead of me upon the completion of the chosen study program. Please find enclosed the obligatory documentation for your kind perusal. Thank you in advance.

Yours Sincerely,
Vivek Singh
